Answer each of the following questions in essay form: 100%

1.

In your view, should L2 learners aim to speak like native speakers in today's global environment? If so, please give support to elements such as which native speaker we should aim for and why and how to achieve that from a pedagogical point of view. If not, please support your arguments from a sound theoretical perspective. (25%)

2.

In your view, should grammar be taught explicitly? Please support your views with examples (such as what types of grammar can/cannot be taught explicitly) and support your argument with evidence presented in current SLA research. (25%)

3.

Name at least two teaching techniques that would work best with adults, two with children. You also need to justify your techniques with solid pedagogical rationale. (25%)

4.

Please define the notion of Communicative Competence and its relationship with the overall language competence of L2 learners. Can it be taught in formal classroom situation and how and when? (25%)
