Suppose you are an English teacher in a university or college in Taiwan. One day, you receive an anonymous letter from a student in your class asking for advice. Now you are requested to write a reply in five paragraphs.

Dear Teacher:

The course load in the school is too heavy for me. I cannot bear it. Furthermore, I cannot see any future for a major in English like me. I have lost my interest in studying. I am thinking of dropping out from school, living outside my home to be away from my parents, and finding a job. Do you agree?
