English Composition Examination for Incoming Ph.D. Students
Tamkang University June, 2004

Write an English composition in essay form in no more than 1,200 words to respond to the following questions.

How would you characterize your experience in learning English? Has it been interesting and inspiring, or troublesome and frustrating? In what ways may your experience be related to the general situation of teaching/learning English as a foreign language? What should be done to make English teaching/learning go hand in hand with cultural understanding?
